

Introduction to Probability

Quiz 5

1. A fair coin is flipped independently until the first head is obtained. For each tail observed before the first head, a value of a continuous random variable with uniform PDF over the interval $[0, 5]$ is generated. Let the random variable X be defined as the sum of all the value obtained before the first head. Find the mean and variance of X .